The Travel Plan by Inman Launches New Software Platform for Marketers

The Travel Plan by Inman is proud to announce the launch of its new software platform—a comprehensive, mobile- and desktop-friendly tool designed to streamline the sales process and provide marketers with real-time visibility into their performance.

“Our team of expert developers and designers diligently worked to create a user-friendly and intuitive platform that caters to the needs of our marketers,” said Dave McComb, CEO of Travel Plan by Inman. “We continue to evolve and find ways to better serve our marketers and their families.”

The new platform enables marketers to:

- Quickly and efficiently submit new sales
- View live status updates for all active sales
- Access a full history of completed transactions
- Start and manage sales from any mobile device

This intuitive tool is designed with flexibility and ease-of-use in mind, helping marketers stay connected and efficient—wherever they are.

About The Travel Plan by Inman

The Travel Plan by Inman is a travel protection product offered by Inman Shipping Worldwide, created to meet the needs of an increasingly mobile society. As careers, travel, and retirement take individuals across the country and around the globe, the Travel Plan provides peace of mind by ensuring that, in the event of death away from home, the deceased's remains will be professionally returned to their final resting place. Every Plan sold is backed by insurance.

Inman Shipping Worldwide has decades of experience in mortuary transport and is trusted by funeral professionals across the nation. With The Travel Plan, families can rely on expert care, logistical coordination, and financial protection during some of life's most difficult moments.
